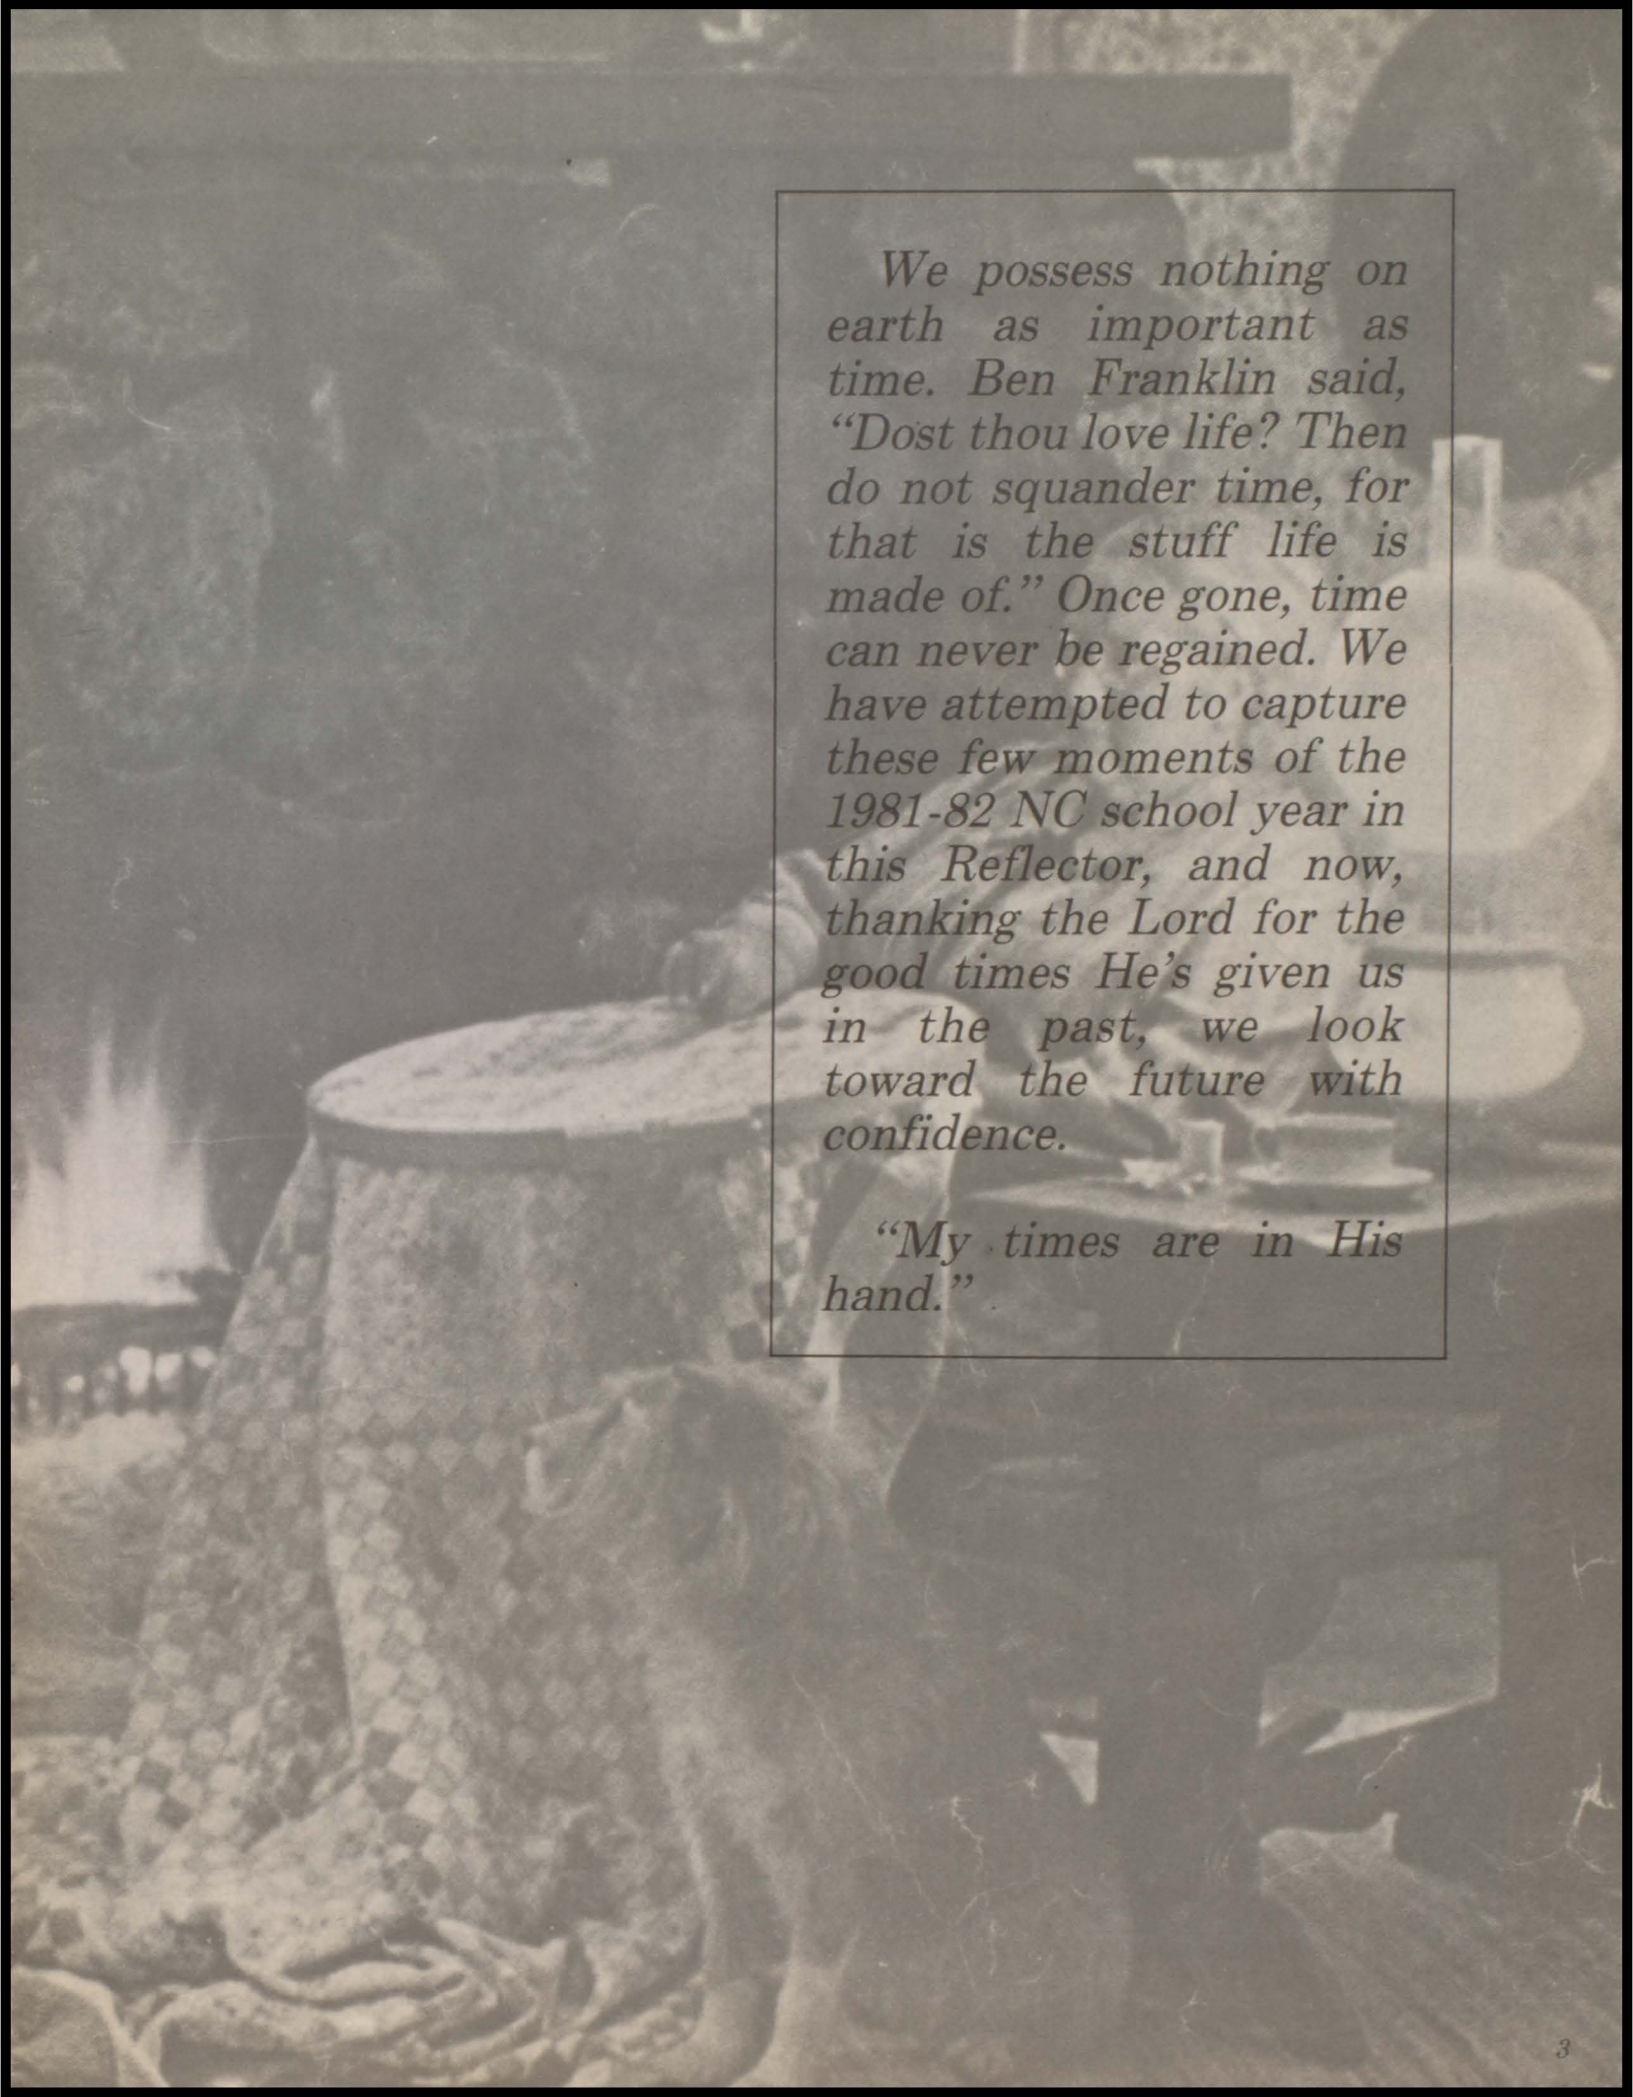
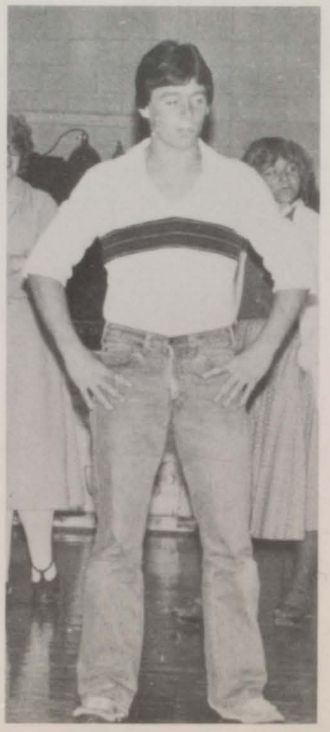
There is a time for everything,
and a season for every activity under heaven:
a time to be born and a time to die,
a time to plant and a time to uproot,
a time to kill and a time to heal,
a time to tear down and a time to build,
a time to weep and a time to laugh,
a time to mourn and a time to dance,
a time to scatter stones and a time to gather them,
a time to embrace and a time to refrain,
a time to search and a time to give up,
a time to keep and a time to throw away,
a time to tear and a time to mend,
a time to be silent and a time to speak,
a time to love and a time to hate,
a time for war and a time for peace.
Ecclesiastics 3:1-8



We possess nothing on earth as important as time. Ben Franklin said, "Dost thou love life? Then do not squander time, for that is the stuff life is made of." Once gone, time can never be regained. We have attempted to capture these few moments of the 1981-82 NC school year in this Reflector, and now, thanking the Lord for the good times He's given us in the past, we look toward the future with confidence.

"My times are in His hand."



Seniors

SPOTLIGHT ON

- LOWELL KRIEGER -

Lowell, who comes from near O'Neill, Nebraska, attended N.C. for four years. He was in football for three years and in track for two years. Being the class president his Junior year and vice-president his Senior year helped develop his leadership abilities. Lowell enjoys hunting and leather work in his spare time and enjoys farming very much as well. He wants to start farming with his dad next year.

- FRED GOSS -

Fred has been at N.C. for both his Junior High and Senior High years. Football was his favorite sport, and he participated in basketball his Senior year. He also enjoyed drama, acting major roles in several plays, and participating in speech activities. For hobbies, he enjoys hunting and collecting guns.

- DAVE SHARMAN -

Dave participated in track and basketball for all four years of high school and football the last two years. Dave enjoyed playing basketball the most. Drama was also a big part of Dave's time here at N.C. He showed his leadership ability by being class president his Freshman and Senior years. After graduation David looks forward to farming with his dad near Palmer.

- SCOTT RATLIFF -

Scott has attended N.C. for six years and enjoyed each year. He has played basketball every year, played football for two years, and has also been active in dramatic productions. Scott enjoys rodeos; his favorite events are calf - roping and team roping, both of which he himself participates in. Scott's hobbies are breaking and riding horses, farming, and roping.

SENIORS

- ROD RUYBALID -

Rod attended N.C. for six years. During his days in high school, he was involved in choir four years and band three years. He also made his contribution to the drama department by participating in the Three - act play four years and the one - act play two years. The department he liked best was the athletic department. For four years Rod was on the football, basketball, and track teams. He also qualified for the State track meet. Isaiah 40:31 is his key verse.

- SCOTT LINDSAY -

Scott came to N.C. his Junior year from Holdrege, Nebraska. He was active in Choir and Drama, as well as REFLECTOR, each year. Scott's interests his Senior year lay in the area of art, and he was very much looking forward to graduation. His key verse is Proverbs 15:15 - "All the days of the afflicted are bad, but a cheerful heart has a continual feast."

- MARTY BEASON -

Marty transferred to N.C. his Junior year and, among other activities, was involved in football and basketball. His Senior year, he also went out for track. His hobbies are racing motorcycles and boxing, which he wants to carry on. The thing Marty appreciated most about N.C. was the teachers. His favorite verse is James 1:12 - "Blessed is the man that endureth temptation; for when he is tried, he shall receive the crown of life, which the Lord hath promised to them that love him."

- SCOTT BARNES -

Scott has attended N.C. since his seventh grade year and enjoyed the opportunity to attend N.C. the past six years. Scott lives on a dairy farm near Central City where he enjoys working with cattle. He's been active in 4-H, and his hobbies include showing cattle, watching sports, and attending stock car races and farm shows around Nebraska. In the future, Scott plans to attend college in Nebraska to futher his studies.

- RAY MAGNUSON -

Ray has attended N.C. for six years and appreciates the Biblical truths taught here. His hobbies are amateur astronomy and reading. His favorite verse is Isaiah 40:8 - "The grass fadeth and the flower withereth, but the word of the Lord shall stand forever."

SPOTLIGHT

B.J. BRUNNER

Meloney, better known as B.J., transferred to N.C. her Sophomore year. B. J. was active in volleyball for three years and a cheerleader her Senior year. She is from Dolores, Colorado. B. J. was a real asset to her class both her Junior and Senior years, where her organizational abilities helped get the Jr.-Sr. Banquet going and helped raise funds for Senior Sneak. Music was a big part of B. J.'s life, and she participated in both choir and band. One of her favorite verses is John 15:13.

CARLA BERCK

Carla attended N.C. for five years with her Sophomore year at Marquette High School. Carla has this thing for horses . . . she loves them! Most of Carla's spare time was spent getting ready for horse shows. Carla participated both in volleyball and track. Her key verse was Proverbs 18:24.

SHERI LARSEN

Sheri has attended N.C. for six years. In the fall she participated in her favorite school sport — volleyball. She also enjoyed cheerleading, Girls' Glee, and playing the flute in band. Speech was an area in which Sheri excelled. She participated in State Speech contests for two years. A few of her choice activities while not in school are cooking, bicycling, and possibly becoming an elementary teacher.

SHEILA ADAMS

Sheila attended N.C. for six years. She was in volleyball for five years and in track for two. She enjoyed her part-time work at Bethesda Care Center her Senior year. Sheila enjoys volleyball, working, and playing the piano. She plans on working a year before going into nurses' training.

SHINES ON

BARB CRUM

Barb transferred to N.C. her Senior year from Bellevue, Nebraska. She participated in the REFLECTOR staff. After graduation Barb plans to attend Grace College of the Bible in Omaha and pursue training for a career as an elementary teacher. She leaves this verse to all underclassmen: Jeremiah 29:11 - "For I know the plans that I have for you, declares the Lord, plans for welfare and not calamity, to give you a future and a hope."

VALERIE MOYER

While Valerie attended N.C. her Senior year, she participated in choir and band. Playing the piano is an important part of her life. She's been involved in music for many years and hopes to pursue her education in two fields: Bible and music. Two of her favorite pastimes are reading and composing piano music. Her advice to underclassmen, is, "Whatever you want, go for it with the right motives and thoughts."

SHERYL SAWYER

Sheryl was a student at N.C. for six years. She really enjoyed band and choir. She plans on going to a Christian college where she can receive training to be a secretary . . . Being class secretary her Junior and Senior years and REFLECTOR Business Manager helped prepare her for this career. Some verses that have been special to Sheryl are Psalm 37:1-5.

CHERYL BOWERS

Cheryl was a PK who transferred to N.C. her Senior year from Pawnee City, Nebraska. Cheryl was very involved in music all through high school and participated in Choir, Band, and Girls' Glee her Senior year. Her favorite instrument was the piano. The yearbook staffs benefited from her help her Junior and Senior years. She also wrote quite a few articles for the INSIGHT. Cheryl set many goals for herself and worked to achieve them. A key verse is Romans 8:28.

JEWEL SCHWEITZER

Jewel's home is in Arizona City, Arizona, and she attended N.C. for four years. She played volleyball and proved to be a fine setter and a team leader. Jewel had an opportunity to develop her leadership abilities as editor of the REFLECTOR her Senior year. Jewel kept the class laughing all year because of her hobby . . . laughing. A verse that has meant a lot to Jewel is Romans 8:38-39.

JAN KEELER

Jan transferred to N.C. her Senior year from McCook, Nebraska. Dorm life proved to be a very interesting part of life at the school. Jan plans to pursue a possible career in the area of Interior Decorating or photography. A special verse is Psalm 103:1-5.

BETH ROWE

Beth came to N.C. her Sophomore year from Grand Island Northwest High School. She has really enjoyed her three years in choir. In other areas, she also greatly helped the volleyball teams and coach her Junior and Senior years by being the Student Manager. She was also an important part of the Pep Club. Beth's hobbies include playing the piano and singing.

SHELLY ZOUCHA

Shelly transferred to N.C. from Grand Island Senior High School for her Senior year. She really enjoyed the music program and wished that she could have participated more often. She also contributed to the friendly atmosphere at N.C. and wished that she could have been a part of it earlier. Shelly hopes to continue school and has been thinking about working with youth. A verse that means a lot to her is Romans 8:28.

TAMMY CHASE

Tammy transferred to N.C. her Sophomore year from Rock County High School. She participated in choir and drama, and wrote articles for the INSIGHT, the student newspaper. Her Senior year, she was editor of the INSIGHT. Tammy's favorite hobbies are crocheting, reading, and playing the piano. Her favorite verse is Psalm 32:8 - "I will instruct thee and teach thee in the way which thou shalt go; I will guide thee with mine eye."

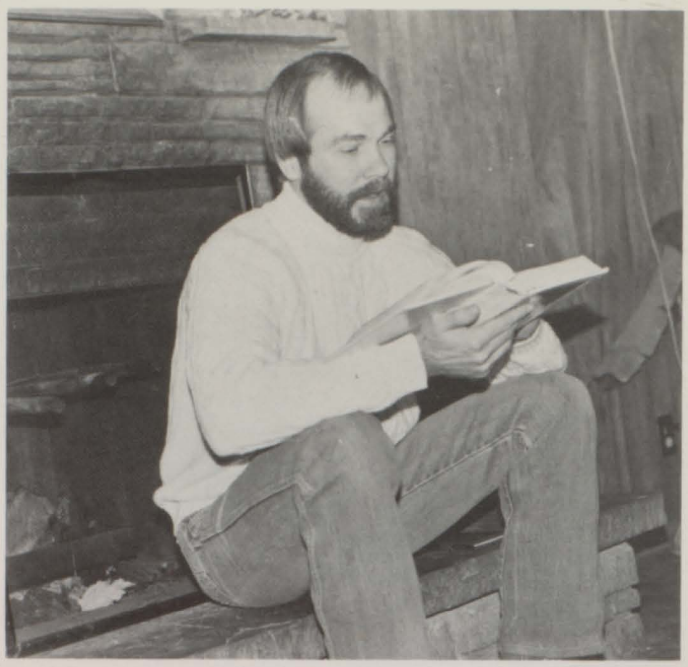
SENIOR SNEAK — 1982



This year's senior sneak was a time of fun as well as a time of examining our lives and our commitment to the Lord.

The day we arrived at Camp Id-Ra-Ha-Je was spent sleeping and goofing around. The next day the whole class hit the ski slopes and made the management wonder what had hit them. On the third day half the class went skiing again while the other half went into Denver on a shopping spree at Cinderella City.

Our speaker this year was James Jost, a pastor from Omaha. The entire class got to know and appreciate him very much.

The evenings were spent having skits and playing games. Then James would speak and encourage us in our walk with Christ.

Although it seemed like a lot of hassle getting ready for sneak, we felt that the time spent was well worth it.

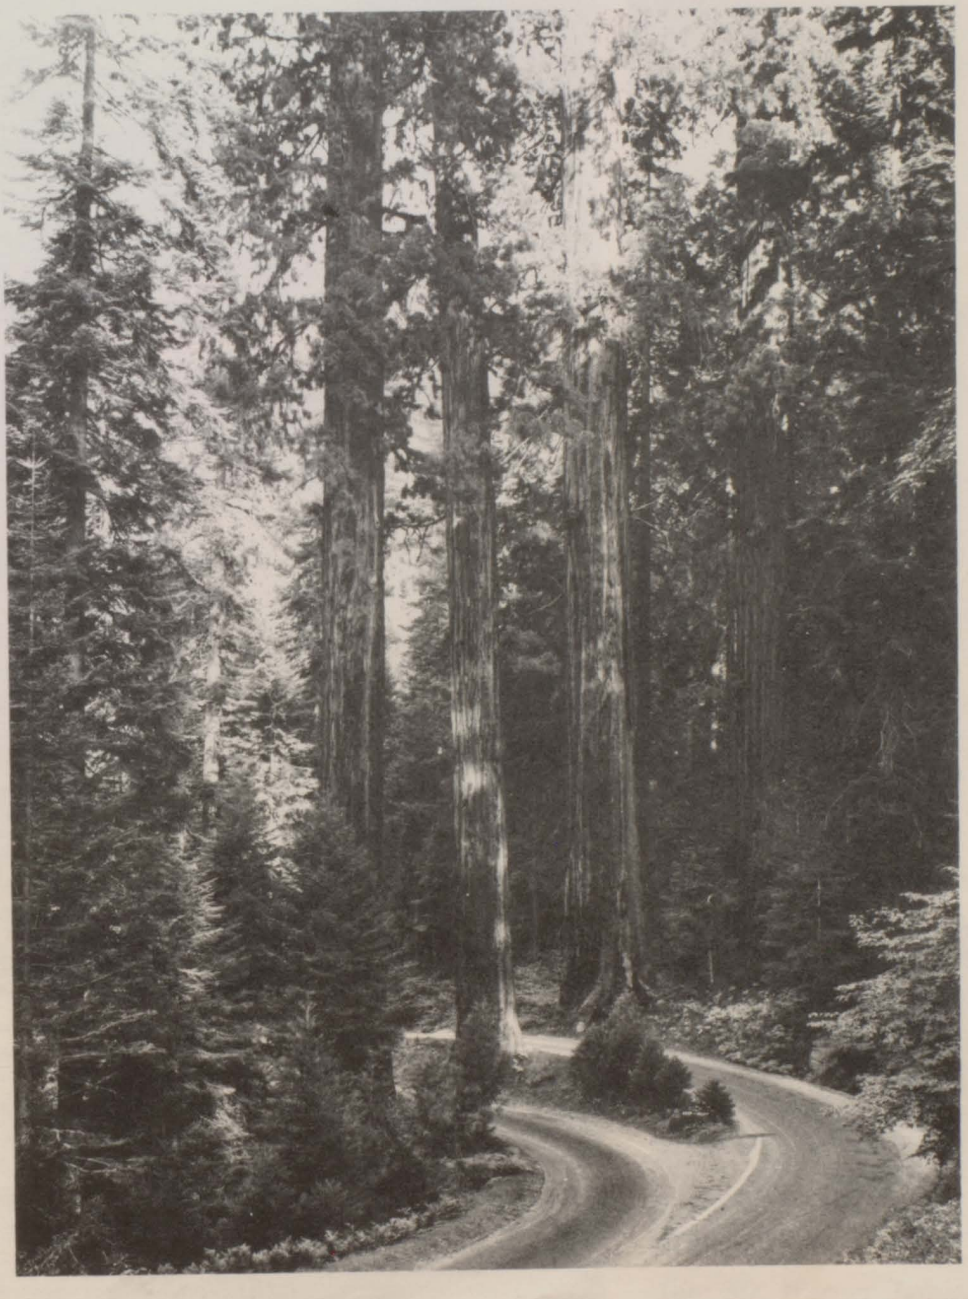
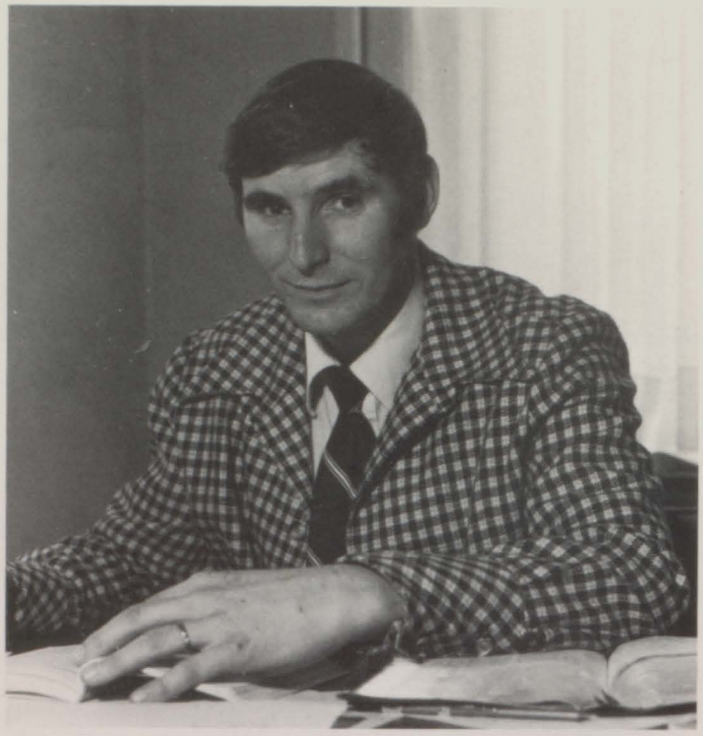
Administration



A NEW SUPERINTENDENT

Dr. Don Canfield — Superintendent.



Mr. Rich Musgrave — Dean of Students, Bible IV.

NC began the year with a new superintendent — Dr. Don Canfield, from Munden, Kansas. The school has benefited greatly from his leadership ability, as he worked along with Mr. Musgrave, whose experience has proved invaluable.

The Board spent many hours and travelled many miles to work together with the administrators on the tough problems that NC sometimes faces, and to pray together. Much of their work was behind the scenes, but NC couldn't get along without their sacrificial service.

Another important group of men during this NC school year was the Advisory Council, whose advice and prayers were appreciated by all of the administrators of the school.

The Junior year is a time of preparation: fund raising, Junior and Senior banquet, and of great importance, OUR Senior year. Each one is busy raising money with the many projects the class has, such as selling candy, magazines, and cards; hoping to make the best Junior and Senior banquet in the history of N.C. To most of us the year seems to go on so slow! for we are anxious to have our try as BIG Seniors! Watch out 1983, cuz here we come!

The Sophomore class grew in many ways; in stability, in maturity, and greatly in size. Stepping toward our goals, we became firmly established. No longer were we battling an age crisis where we were either not old enough or too old for many things. Among the many books we carried as we trudged along was the book of Responsibility. We were expected to know the secrets within it and be accountable. This year brought many new people and we grew from a class of twenty-five to a class of thirty-six — the SOPHOMORE class of '84.

10TH GRADERS ACCEPT NEW DUTIES

MISTAKES
BY GINGER DOCKHORN

When I have troubles, they usually come because of a wrong decision.
Even when they double
Jesus comes to the rescue with love and understanding.
Now that I realize this, help me not to compromise the right decisions for the wrong.
Our greatest disappointments later become the solid foundation of great happiness for us.
Time goes on and sorrow becomes memory.
Change is consistent and we all change with time, but we have the choice either to turn to worse through our experience or come closer to God.
Thanks to God time heals wounds, only scars remain.

Even though some of the twenty-four Ninth Graders had been here for their seventh and eighth grade years, still it was a time for new beginning for all, as each one became really a part of the high school. This opened new opportunities to get involved in the school — through JV and varsity sports, speech, yearbook, drama, and choir. In the classroom they began also — on the program that will lead them to graduation four years down the road. It was a new feeling to actually make their own choice as to whether they'd take biology or world history; or math or algebra. The remainder of the program consisted of English, Bible, and practical arts. (As one semester of this course, they learned to type, even though at first some of them felt they were all thumbs.)

Some of the highlights of the year include the class parties and the potato dig, when the Freshmen dug more potatoes than any other class. The Class of '85 is looking forward to finishing what they've begun.

Freshmen . . .

We all come into this school,

Enthusiastic, lost, confused,

Acting sort of like a fool . . .

Finding all the right classes and teachers.

Running up and down the stairs was such a pain.

My back is aching, and my feet will never be the same!

Getting to class on time, (I musn't be late!)

Only to take a surprise quiz . . .

After the first hectic week is through,

I know where my classes are, and who the kids are, too.

My first week of high school — I'm so grown up!

It's been quite an experience. I'll never forget,

But next year is what I'll be looking for . . .

I'll be a great big Sophomore!!

It was a good year for the Junior High as they had the largest enrollment ever for seventh and eighth grades at N.C. For the seventh graders especially, there were big changes from grade school days. For one thing, they now took shop and home ec. along with their other classes. For another thing, they were now part of a sports program - and winning, too, in their volleyball, [redacted] games and track meets.

This year they'll remember as [redacted] times and bad — the fun in the dorms for some and [redacted] all; the tragedy when Shellie was run over by a hay [redacted] pelvis. They will look back on it as a time during w[redacted]as the beginning of more years at N.C.

NC IS NOT JUST A HIGH SCHOOL

In 1977, Nebraska Christian Elementary School began in a church downtown with two teachers and 21 students. Much has happened since then. Under the capable leadership of Mr. Gil Glad, the school has grown to 40 students and a total of four teachers. Three years ago fire restrictions forced a move out to the high school campus, into rooms prepared in one wing of the boys dorm. This year, with an expansion from two to three rooms for half of each day, the school made another move. The upper grades and Mr. Glad moved to a room in the Gym building with the high school. New playground equipment purchased in the fall further contributed to the growth of NC Elementary.

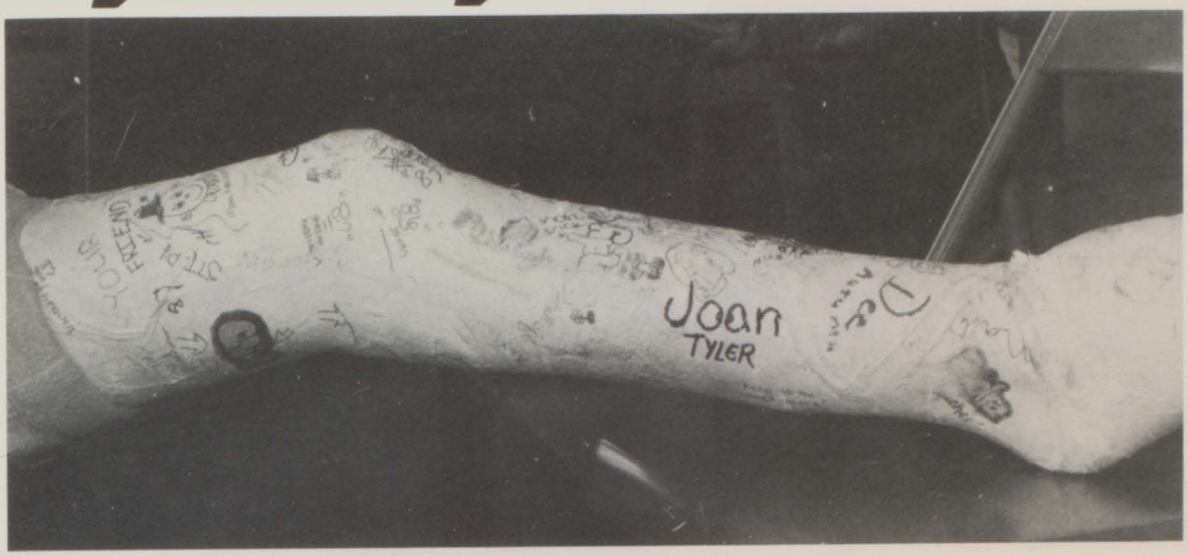
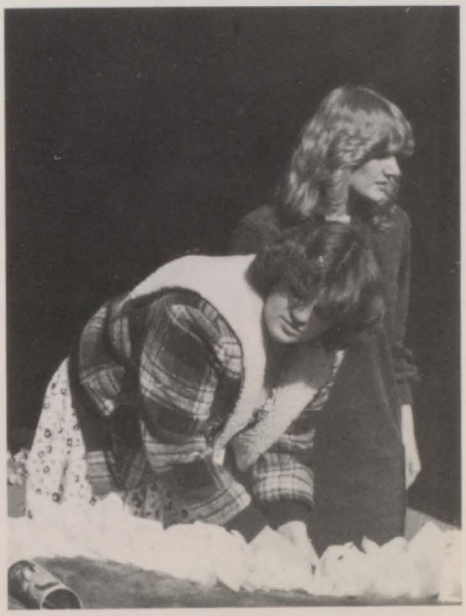
Pep rallies, are a part of the student life to get everyone fired up for "tonites game." Here's Sheryl making a sundae . . . "But in Scott Rattlifs mouth?!!"

STUDENT LIFE



This year wearing casts was a part of many of the students' lives. Here Shellie Dubbs displays the cast she wore for several months. She broke her pelvis in a bad accident on Halloween.

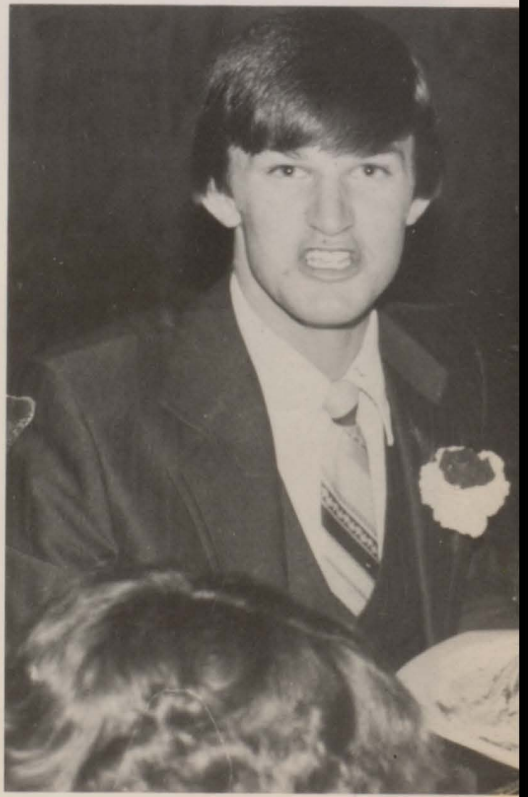


In November, the art class worked on a float for the Veterans Day parade. The Central City Mall sponsored the float, which won second place. Kevin Bruner and Jim Moody rode the float, and the theme was "They Fought a Good Fight."

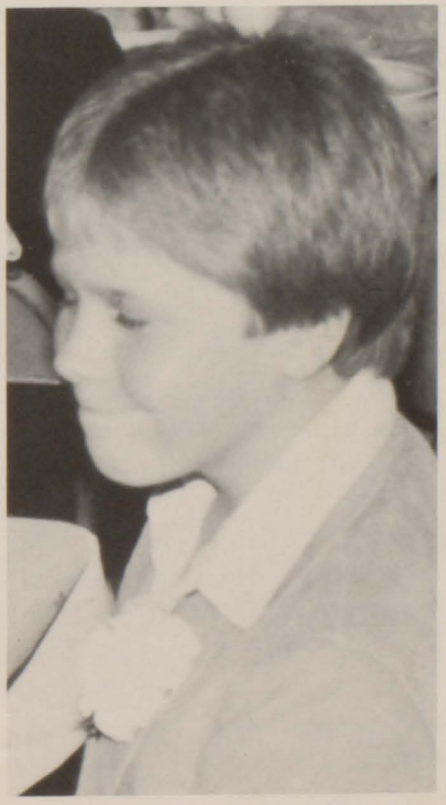
The cheerleaders are getting Gregg, Joey, and Keith ready for the game.

BANQUETS — A TIME TO ENJOY

Banquets, a time of gathering to rrelax and enjoy an evening of fellowship with one another. At these banquets there is always excellent food and good entertainment to listen to. N.C. had three student banquets this year, which were held in the Fall, at Christmas, and the Jr.-Sr. Banquet in the Spring. In addition to these, N.C. held the annual Harvest Festival in the Fall and the Advance Dinner in the Spring. These are open to the public and usually host several hundred friends of N.C.



WITH



GIRLS' DORM

Pug, the dorm pet.

Wouldn't we all like the job of Dorm Parent?

The girls' Dorm was a new experience for some, and it was rewarding to the people who have been here for previous years. The thirty-eight girls welcomed a new addition to the Dike family by having a baby shower for Terry and Darryl and their new baby girl, Danna.

Some welcome changes have taken place this year, such as the rule allowing girls to wear jeans to supper, and the hour of recreation time after suppers. Also, during the cold weather, the NC staff and students built an ice skating rink near the dorms.

The Dikes: Terry and Darryl, Danna, Kami.

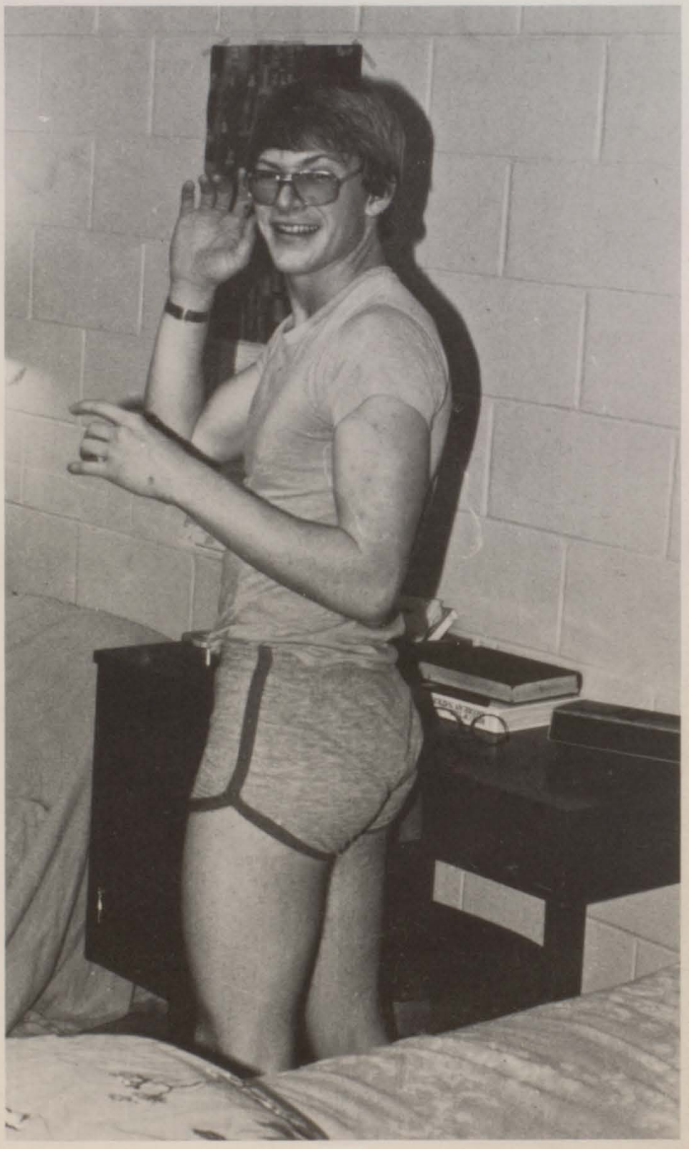
Who are you trying to impress this time, Jane?

. . . and Mr. Dike thought that Laurie was studying!

Nobody told Barb and Beth that study hall was for doing school work.

Smile, Sherry!

BOYS' DORM



The Neelys — Mike, Mickee, Micole.

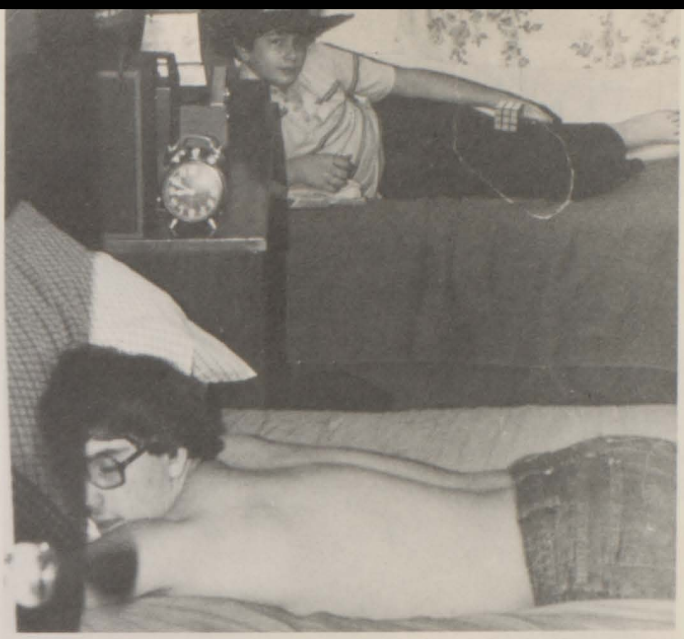
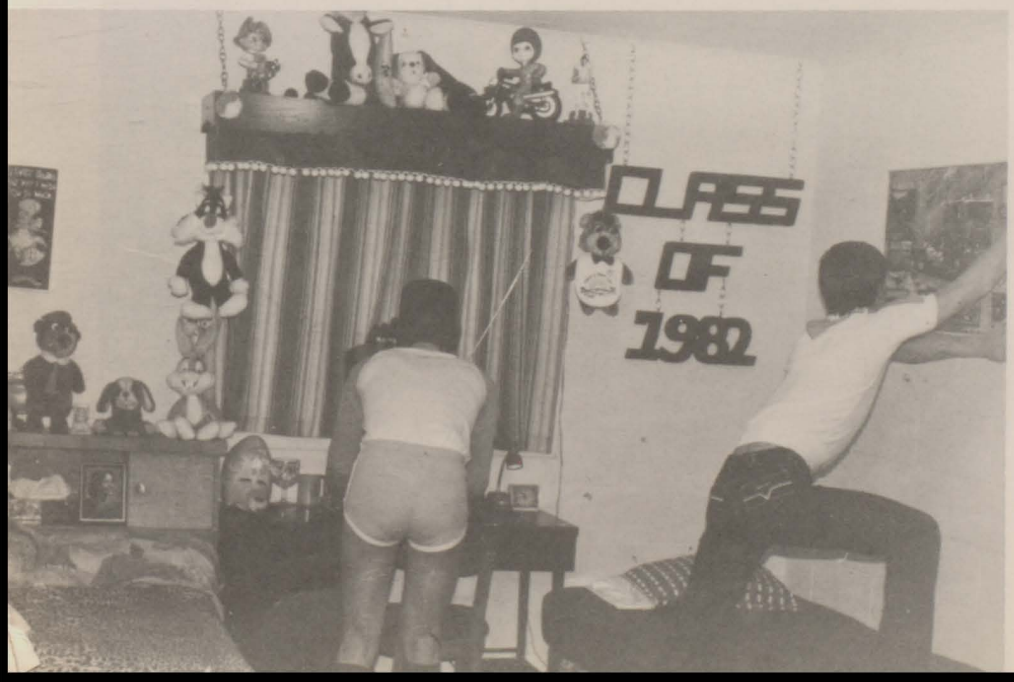
Middle: Brian takes life seriously.

Bottom: Lowell and Dave spare no pains on their interior decorating.



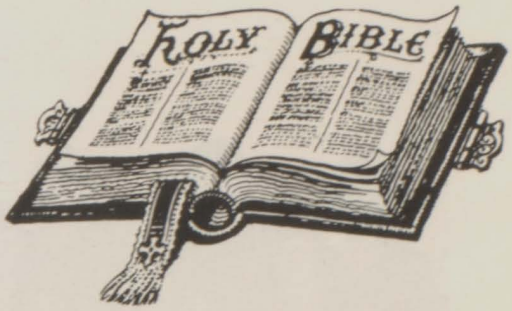
New year, new look.

Last spring, right after school was out, the boys dorm underwent a major "face lift." A group of volunteers came in and worked for several days to replace the flat roof, which had leaked badly, with a sloped one. Not only has the leaking stopped, but the building looks better too. The dorm housed more boys this year than it has for several years. Living with almost thirty other guys is bound to have its frustrations, but it's also bound to be lots of fun, and, as everyone involved will agree — there's never a dull moment.



STUDENT BODY

GROWS SPIRITUALLY



One time in our lives that should be important to all of us is the time to grow spiritually. This year our chapel has challenged us to grow by participation. Each class has had a day to present a chapel that reflects their own style. This year chapel has been changed to the middle three days of the week and every Wednesday Mr. Musgrave has given us a devotional that not only teaches but encourages. In September we had our first spiritual emphasis week with special guest Tim Peterson who sang and talked to us. In March it was Walt Hamilton who came to uplift us from the mid-year blues.

LORD IN SINGING

The NC choir consisted of 36 members this year. The choir performed at various functions that the school held and toured to different churches on the weekends. Under the direction of H. K. Sawyer the choir always worked for their goals — to glorify God and to minister to others.

Choir Officers: Standing: President — Sheryl Sawyer, Sponsor — Mr. Sawyer, Secretary-Treasurer — Tammy Chase.

KEY TO A GOOD BAND

NC's Band did more than just set the rhythm for home games this year. The hours they spent working together and individually, smoothing out the rough spots and sharpening up to perfection, were appreciated by the crowds at such events as the Harvest Festival and the Spring Music Contest. Several small groups as well as the mass band took numbers to contest and did well. And each player benefited individually from the discipline involved in doing his best.

Right: Leslie Clevenger and Shari Barnell concentrate on the music while waiting for their notes.

Bottom row across pages: Dan Olson on the drum keeps rhythm for trombones, Kenny Dockweiler, Brant Taylor, and Jim McKinnis. Saxophones, Eric Barnes and Tammy Gurney watch the time during a rest of several measures. Trumpeters, Clint Bokelman, David Moore, Scott Harwick, and John Campbell join the rest of the band under the direction of Mr. Sawyer.

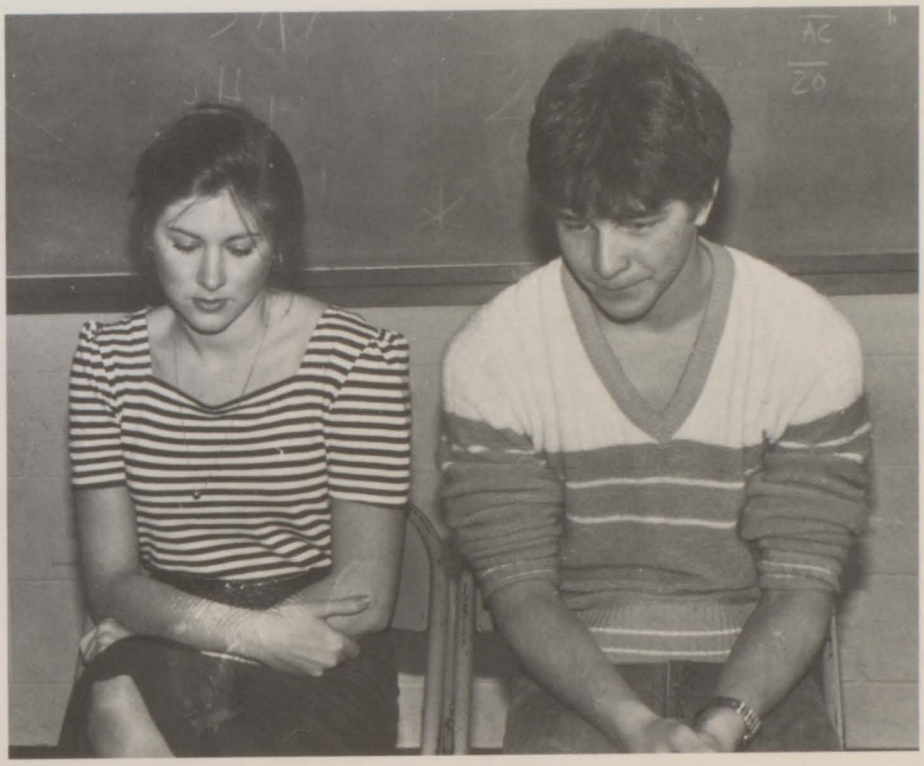
DRAMA

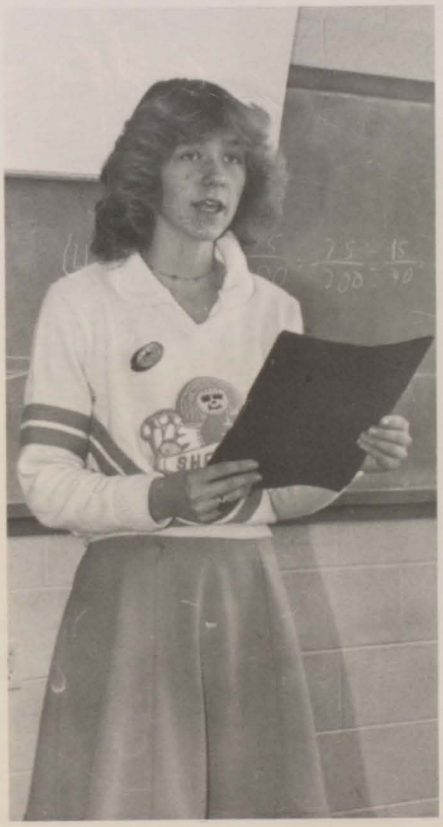
The One-Act play was a Biblical play about the Prodigal Son. The play went to Kearney and did very well.

Cast: Dave Rowand, Scott Ratliff, Laurie Young, Kelli Lundvall, Cheryl Bowers, Director - Karen Senkbile.

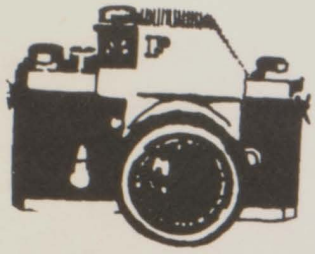
SPEECH

Speech is a large part of N.C. Every year a speech contest is held. Everyone participates in this and the two best speeches out of every category goes to Districts. The contest gave the students a challenge to do the best in their abilities.





JOURNALISTS HELP



Sports aren't the only programs at NC that require self discipline. This year, all of the work done on Reflector and Insight, were done on the students' own time. The Insight was again a page in the Advance — NC's public relations paper which goes out to hundreds of people around the nation. It's a real responsibility writing to such an audience.

The Reflector, to cut costs of production this year, changed from ads to page sponsorships. This made a smaller book, but didn't lose any of the school pages. Training for the Reflector workers came in the form of a workshop presented at the school in January by Walsworth Representative Mike Diffenderfer.

N. C. STUDENTS WORK HARD

If you come to N.C.'s campus someday and see some of us working don't be surprised.

About half of the schools income is gifts. So in appreciation to the people who give, the students cut down on the cost of janitor work by having a work job.

The jobs were inspected by Mr. Schreiber who checked them to see if they were done. If they weren't we had the privilege of attending detention after school. Even though it got monotonous at times, it taught us all a valuable lesson — Responsibility.

NC ALUMS

Each year, between semesters, NC hosts an "alumni day," and dozens of former students return to catch up on what the Lord has been doing in each others lives. Each year they elect new officers to carry out the business end of the Alumni Association. This year the officers elected were: President: Mike Neely, Vice President: Thor Jordan, Secretary: Julie Creutzburg, Treasurer: Linda (Krieger) Garwood. But Alumni involvement at NC goes much beyond the once a year get together. Few schools, perhaps, experience the impact of their alumni involvement as much as NC does. This involvement takes the form of prayer support, financial giving, and fellowship — with teachers and present students. Home games as well as away games often seem to be mini-reunions, and school suppers also draw many.

Some alumni have come back and invested time — perhaps years into helping the school. Mrs. Cook, Mr. and Mrs. Neely, and Miss Garwood are former students who now serve the Lord at NC in another capacity.

Nobody has contributed more to the Alumni Association than Mr. Ward Smith. His involvement with the school began long ago. He taught Bible and his wife cooked for many years. Each month he produces the Advance paper, and, for many NC grads, the first place they turn is the Alumni news. He also spends time with the officers, advising and helping whenever he can. Over the years, he has followed the lives of the grads with interest, and has kept up address files and records of what many of them are doing around the world. NC would like to thank you, Mr. Smith.

VARSITY FOOTBALL

There's more to winning than just the score.

Some of the most important lessons learned on the football field have nothing to do with the final score. The real winners are the guys who keep fighting even if they're behind, and keep hitting their hardest and running their fastest without regard to the scoreboard. The Eagles had a winning season this year by these standards, even though injuries upset their win/loss record.

Coaching is a key element of any team, and NC is no exception. The Football coaching staff consisted of Head coach, Larry Schreiber (giving advice to Senior, Lowell Krieger, below), and Assistants, Darryl Dike, and Lanny Faeh (talking with Senior, Dave Sharman, right.)

JUNIOR VARSITY . . . COMING UP

The Junior Varsity of 1981-82 was a year of growing spiritually as well as improving skills. Although they didn't always come out on top, they always felt as though they were winners because of their integrity and unity.

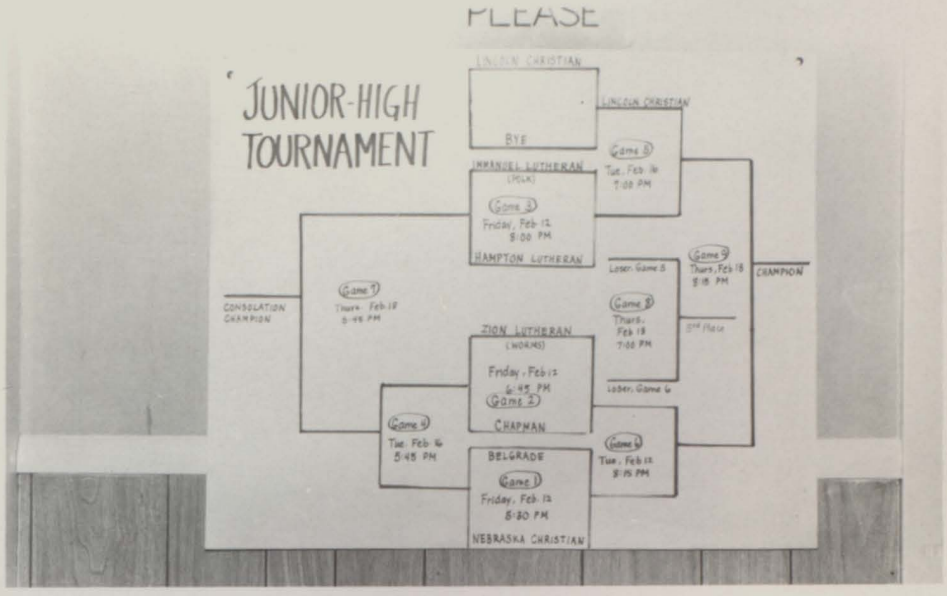
TO NEXT YEAR

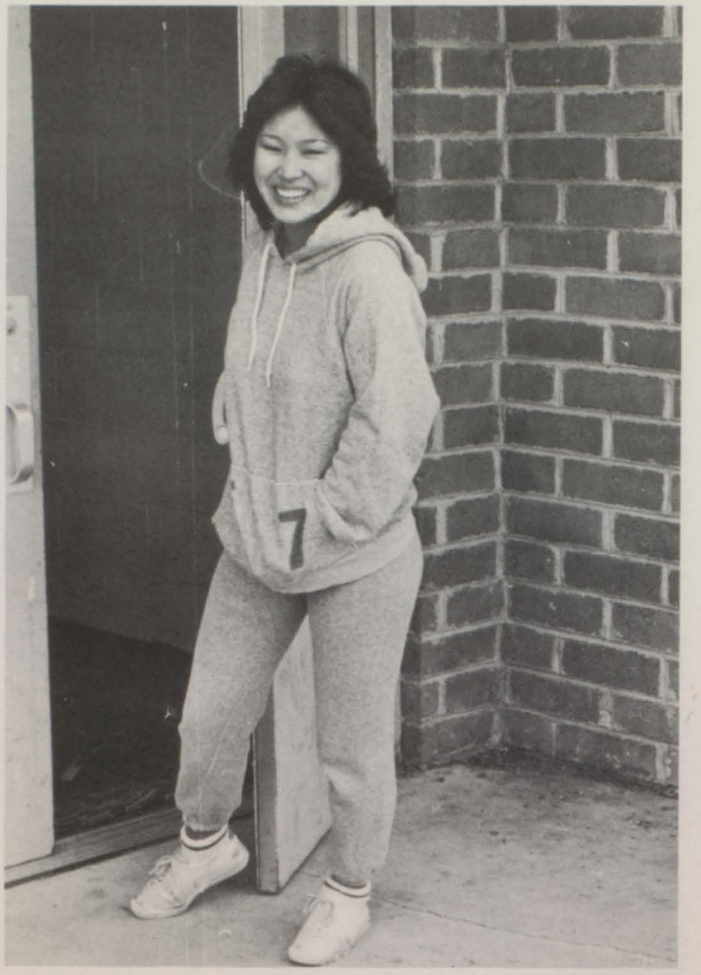


Junior High Team, 1981-82: Standing: Rod Ruybalid — Coach's assistant, Pat Harvey, Eric Barnes, Rodney Swanson, Dave Moore, Daniel McGrew, Rance Dexter, Rod Rowse, Jim McKinnis, Coach Larry Schreiber: Kneeling: Clint Bokelman, Brad Poland, Marty Swan, Brant Taylor, Daryl Zogg, Brad Ratliff, Kyle Berck.

The Junior High basketball team had the best record of any NC team this year. The guys had lots of height, strength, and determination; and, most important of all, they learned to work together as a real team. Besides their regular season games, they played in three tournaments, including one seven-team tournament that NC hosted in February. Trophies were only a part of the victories they won. More important was the satisfaction of doing their best and supporting each other.

GIRLS TRACK BEGINS

Anita Adams practices using the starting blocks.



Is Mary Hamilton smiling because track practice is over or is she up to something else?

This year was unusual compared to years before. The unusual thing was that of starting out in the snow. But yet the really devoted girls kept on going till the end of the season and found it to be worth it.

Kathy Bruner shows the latest dance steps in getting into the starting blocks.

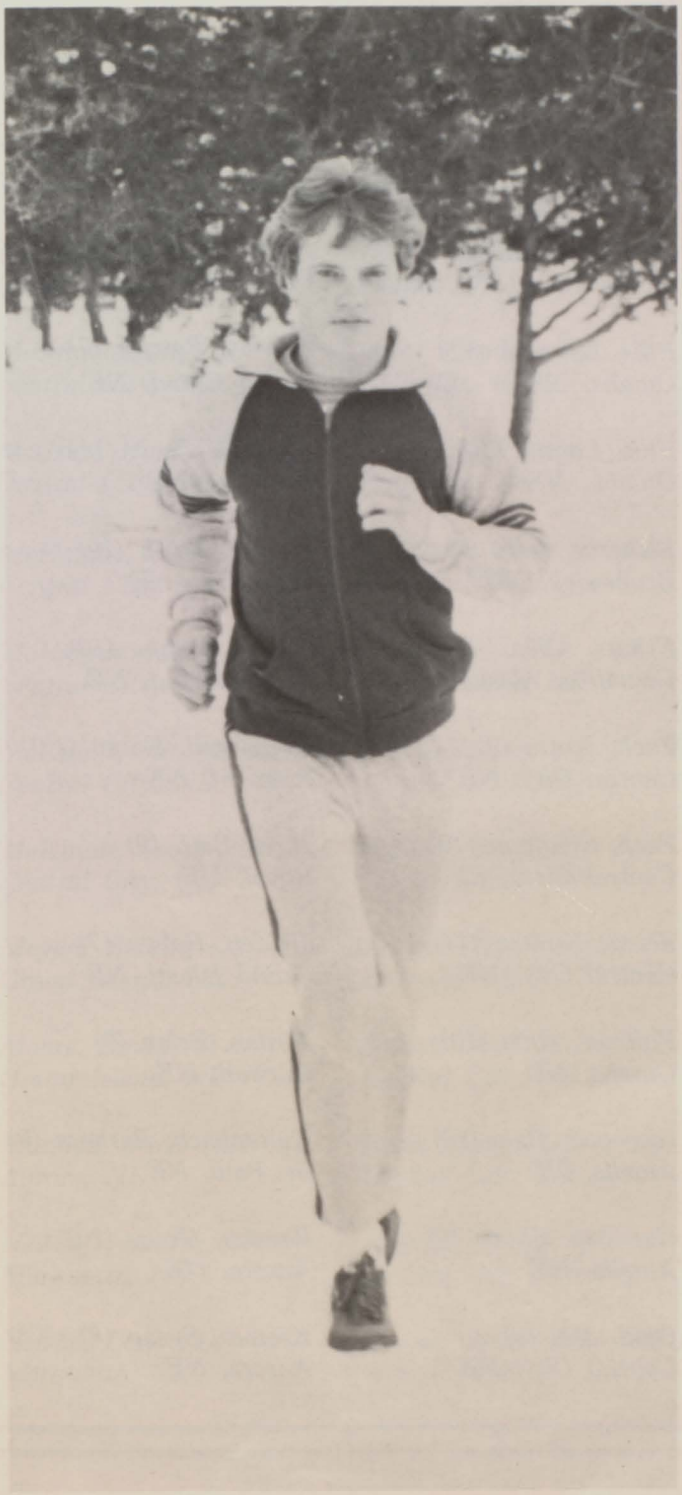
Boys' Track Team, 1982: Back row: Steve Lehman, Kenny Dockweiler, Zane Dexter, Lowell Krieger, Dave Sharman, Coach Larry Schreiber; Second row: Ryndon Svehla, Rod Ruybalid, Jerry Doerr, Dave Olson, Mark McHargue, Joey Glad, Scott McKinnis; Third row: Joel Olson, Joel Ruybalid, Gregg Kremer, Brad Weeks, Kent Crouse, Randy Dwinell; Front row: Steve McHargue, Chris Weeks, Kevin Bruner, Scott Harwick, Ray Magnuson, Marty Beason, Dave Rowand.

Snow and mud were a hindrance to the boys' track program as well as to the girls' program. But for some of the guys, running in the snow had been a part of their own program all winter, and was no real problem. Such discipline showed its results in the final accomplishments. For all guys who participated in Track, there was the pain of really working; but for all who stuck to it, there was also the satisfaction of accomplishment.

SELF DISCIPLINE PAYS BIG DIVIDENDS



Know ye not that they which run in a race run all, but one receiveth the prize? So run that ye may obtain.

School years, like books, come to a close; when the last page has been written, and nothing can be added or subtracted. The pages of this book and the days of this year — have recflected both good and bad times. We've found here at Nebraska Christian in the words of Solomon, "Times to weep and times to laugh — times to keep and times to throw away — times to tear down and times to build up!" Now as we turn our attention from each student, staff member, and friend of NC this year, is that we will be found "Redeeming the Time — Making the most of every opportunity."
